KENTUCKY POTA

2-Fers & 3-Fers

MULTI-PARK FIELD GUIDE • OCTOBER 2026 (RECHECKED OCT 13)

Overlapping boundaries • Trails • Historic trails • Ohio River banks • Park names match the POTA Kentucky list

GPS PINS ARE GUIDES ONLY

Every GPS point in this guide gets you to the AREA of a possible 2-fer or 3-fer. It is not a confirmed activation spot. When you get there, check that you and your gear are inside every park, and for trail and river parks within 100 ft of the trail or the water. Riverbank pins have not been checked against the actual water line. The four historic trail sites are not on the river or trail at all; they rely on National Park Service listings (cited on each card).

DO YOUR OWN RESEARCH

This guide is a planning tool put together by the Kentucky Portable Club from public map data. It has not been field-checked at every spot or approved by POTA. Boundaries can be out of date or slightly off and do not show private land, closures or hunting seasons. Confirm each boundary on the official agency map, make sure the land is public and open, and read the POTA Rules. You are responsible for making sure your activation is valid and legal.

WHAT COUNTS AS A 2-FER

2-fer means two POTA parks only (KFF and SOTA are not 2-fers). You and all your gear must be on public land inside every park you log. Parks that only touch at a border do not count; the parks must overlap. Trails and rivers that are their own park: within 100 ft of the trail or the river's edge. National forests count only on Forest Service-owned land. One log per park.

GPS GRADES ON EVERY SPOT

- A Drive up: parking or entrance on file is inside every park.
- B Short walk, or a trail crossing you can reach from a road.
- C No close parking on file, or a riverbank pin not checked against the water: check satellite view.

HOW TO READ A CARD

3-FER / 2-FER	How many POTA parks the spot gives you.
US-####	Opens that park's POTA page. Names are the official POTA names.
GPS	Opens the first point in Google Maps (a guide pin, not a confirmed spot).
DIRECTIONS	Driving directions to the parking or drive-up point if there is one.
A B C	GPS grade: drive up, short walk, or check satellite view.
PARKING	Parking only. Never the setup spot; it can be outside the park line.
NOTES	What to check before you go.

These spots also show in KY Park Commander and the KY Trip Planner when you turn on Park Overlaps, and in the Members Room multi-park map and GPX file.

Plan a Trip Routes & checklist

Six ready-made day routes built from the spots in this guide, plus a checklist. Tap OPEN ROUTE to load every stop in Google Maps; miles are straight-line between stops, so driving is longer. GPS points are guide pins only.

1	Pick your stops	Use the spot cards in this guide or the trip routes below. Start with grade A and B spots; leave grade C (check satellite view) for when you have time to scout.
2	Build it in the KY Trip Planner	Open the KY Trip Planner on the KPC site, add each park as a stop and turn on Park Overlaps plus the Trail of Tears, Lewis & Clark and Lewis & Clark auto tour route layers. It draws the route, counts the miles and exports a GPX.
3	Check each park before you go	Open the official park map. Wildlife Management Areas have hunting seasons (wear blaze orange in gun seasons), some lots and gates close, and national forest spots count only on Forest Service-owned land.
4	Scout the tricky pins	Riverbank and Kentucky Lake shore pins are approximate. Look at satellite view for a public place within 100 ft of the water. Trail spots must be within 100 ft of the trail and inside the other park.
5	Historic trails: look for the sign	POTA's Activator Guide says historic trails have no specific boundaries, so you need an NPS-certified site or official signage. Take a photo of the brown Lewis and Clark Trail / AUTO TOUR ROUTE or Trail of Tears sign at your spot.
6	On the air	Spot every reference you are activating, log each park separately (one log file per park) and keep your whole station inside every park. Upload each log to POTA after the trip.
7	Pack	Radio, battery, antenna that fits a small footprint, 100 ft of string or a tape to check the 100 ft rule, blaze orange in hunting season, water, a paper map (cell service is poor in the gorge and along the rivers).

Kentucky Lake & Land Between the Lakes

OPEN ROUTE ›

TRAIL OF TEARS WATER ROUTE + LEWIS & CLARK

A lake-country day in Marshall, Trigg and Calloway counties. Every stop is on the Tennessee River (Kentucky Lake), the Trail of Tears Water Route; Golden Pond adds Lewis & Clark. Kentucky Lake shore spots are a looser fit (the river channel is out in the lake), so read each card.

2-FER	1. Kentucky Dam Village State Park	US-3791 + US-1283	start
2-FER	2. Land Between the Lakes: Kentucky Lake shore	US-3791 + US-3792	7 mi from last
2-FER	3. Golden Pond Visitor Center (Lewis & Clark)	US-4572 + US-3792	13 mi from last
2-FER	4. Kenlake State Park	US-3791 + US-1282	4 mi from last
3-FER	5. Fort Heiman 3-fer (Kentucky Lake WMA 2-fer is the same shore)	US-3791 + US-0703 + US-3790	17 mi from last

Middle & Upper Ohio

LEWIS & CLARK AUTO TOUR ROUTE

OPEN ROUTE ›

Follow the brown AUTO TOUR ROUTE signs. Otter Creek and Yellowbank have both a riverbank spot and a spot beside the signed route; Big Bone Lick is an NPS visitor center with the route along the park. Six Mile Island is boat-only. Big Bone Lick is about 100 miles from the other two, so this one is a long day or a weekend.

2-FER	1. Big Bone Lick (L&C visitor center + auto tour route)	US-4572 + US-3779	start
2-FER	2. Otter Creek (bank + auto tour route)	US-4572 + US-8144	96 mi from last

Trail of Tears National Historic Trail + Fort Donelson National Battlefield + Fort Heiman National Battlefield

Calloway County • about 4 mi of shoreline • Trail of Tears Water Route bank (Tennessee River / Kentucky Lake)

US-3791 US-0703 US-3790 GPS DIRECTIONS

C 36.49934, -88.05560
Kentucky Lake shore area (approximate)
Pin is on the water side of the park in our map data, not checked against the water line. Walk to the water and set up inside the park within 100 ft of it.

B 36.50160, -88.05620
Fort Heiman unit (POTA location)
The POTA location for Fort Heiman.

NOTES Trail of Tears Water Route: the Tennessee River (Kentucky Lake). The trail here is the river itself, so set up on public land inside the park AND within 100 ft of the water. Kentucky Lake is the dammed Tennessee River; the NPS route line follows the old river channel out in the lake, so this is a looser fit than an Ohio River bank. Fort Heiman is a unit of Fort Donelson National Battlefield, so the same land counts for both. The pin is approximate and was not checked against the water line. Possible only: do your own research.

Historic Trail Sites

Visitor centers, certified sites & auto tour route

Wickliffe Mounds, Big Bone Lick and Golden Pond Visitor Center are NOT within 100 ft of the river; they are on the NPS Kentucky visitor center list, and the signed Lewis & Clark auto tour route runs along Wickliffe Mounds, Big Bone Lick and Livingston County WMA. Columbus-Belmont has the NPS Benge Route running through it. Each is listed only because a National Park Service page lists it as a trail site, visitor center or certified site; the page is cited on each card. The POTA Activator Guide says historic trails "do not have specific boundaries," so you need a park or site certified by the NPS and official trail signage. Check with POTA before counting them.

Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail + Wickliffe Mounds State Historic Site

Ballard County • Lewis & Clark National Historic Trail site

US-4572 US-3788 GPS DIRECTIONS

A 36.97104, -89.09253 — Wickliffe Mounds State Historic Site (NPS-listed trail site)
Not within 100 ft of the river. Set up inside the park near the site, or use the auto tour route pin below.

B 36.96958, -89.09265 — Inside the park next to the auto tour route (US 60 / US 51)
Within about 75 ft of the signed auto tour route in our map data, just inside the park line. Stay inside the park.

NOTES NOT within 100 ft of the river. It is listed because the National Park Service names it on the Lewis & Clark NHT "Visitor Centers in Kentucky" page. Possible only: the POTA Activator Guide says historic trails have no specific boundaries, so look for NPS-certified sites and official trail signage, and check with POTA before counting it. The signed Lewis & Clark auto tour route (US 60 / US 51) runs right along the park line here; the NPS calls the auto tour route part of the trail, so a spot inside the park within 100 ft of a signed stretch may also work. Look for the brown Lewis and Clark Trail / AUTO TOUR ROUTE sign.

Boone County • Lewis & Clark National Historic Trail site

US-4572 US-3779 GPS DIRECTIONS

A 38.88425, -84.75214 — Big Bone Lick State Historic Site (NPS-listed trail site)
Not within 100 ft of the river. Set up inside the park near the site, or use the auto tour route pin below.

B 38.88870, -84.75455 — Inside the park next to the auto tour route (KY 338)
Within about 75 ft of the signed auto tour route in our map data, just inside the park line. Stay inside the park.

NOTES NOT within 100 ft of the river. It is listed because the National Park Service names it on the Lewis & Clark NHT "Visitor Centers in Kentucky" page. Possible only: the POTA Activator Guide says historic trails have no specific boundaries, so look for NPS-certified sites and official trail signage, and check with POTA before counting it. The signed Lewis & Clark auto tour route (KY 338) runs right along the park line here; the NPS calls the auto tour route part of the trail, so a spot inside the park within 100 ft of a signed stretch may also work. Look for the brown Lewis and Clark Trail / AUTO TOUR ROUTE sign.

Trail of Tears Water Route

Tennessee & Mississippi rivers

The Trail of Tears Water Route followed the Tennessee River (now Kentucky Lake) to Paducah, then the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. You must be inside the park AND within 100 ft of the water. On Kentucky Lake the NPS route line follows the old channel out in the lake, so these are a looser fit than the Ohio River banks. Pins are approximate.

Unconfirmed Not counted in this guide

These pairs might work but could not be confirmed from map data, so they are not in the 62 spots and are not shown as 2-fers on the KPC map tools. Do your own research before you count on any of them.

US-10140 Kentucky Lake Wildlife Management Area + US-0703 Fort Donelson National Battlefield / US-3790 Fort Heiman National Battlefield	Maps overlap about 65 acres across different owners. Check who owns it.
US-10164 Shillalah Creek Wildlife Management Area + US-0019 Cumberland Gap National Historical Park	Maps overlap about 34 acres across different owners. Check who owns it.
US-7970 Sinking Creek State Natural Area + US-4484 Daniel Boone National Forest	Only about 5 acres overlap. Check if it is Forest Service land. (The Sheltowee Trace 2-fer at Sinking Creek is in the guide.)
US-10162 Ross Creek Wildlife Management Area + US-4484 Daniel Boone National Forest	Only about 6 acres of Forest Service land overlap. Check the ownership map.
US-10102 Pine Mountain State Trail + US-1262 Kingdom Come State Park, US-4688 Kentenia State Forest, US-7968 E. Lucy Braun State Nature Preserve or US-0019 Cumberland Gap National Historical Park	The trail line on file does not show the trail inside these parks. Confirm the trail runs through the park.
US-1287 Pennyrile Forest State Park + US-4692 Pennyrile State Forest	Checked by a KPC member: the two do not overlap. NOT a 2-fer.
US-10098 Green River National Wildlife Refuge + US-4572 Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail	No boundary map available here. Check the refuge map for public riverbank.
US-3827 Obion Creek Wildlife Management Area + US-3791 Trail of Tears National Historic Trail	The park comes within about half a mile of the Mississippi River channel on the NPS map; check whether it has public riverbank.

What changed in the October 13 recheck

- Every park name now matches the POTA Kentucky park list exactly (no shortened or agency names such as "Outdoor Recreation Area", "Sunnybrook", "Burchell-Beech Creek" or "Peabody").
- Every GPS pin is labeled as a guide that gets you to the area, not a confirmed activation spot.
- Riverbank pins are marked approximate (grade C): they were not checked against the actual water line, and some may be more than 100 ft from the river.
- The four historic trail sites now say plainly that they are NOT within 100 ft of the river or trail, and cite the National Park Service page each one relies on. Big Bone Lick is an NPS "High Potential Historic Site" and Wickliffe Mounds is on the NPS Lewis & Clark pages; neither is called a visitor center by the NPS.
- Removed a Red River 3-fer pin that pointed to a spot 33 km outside the Daniel Boone National Forest, and a general Land Between the Lakes pin 7 mi from Golden Pond Visitor Center.
- Moved 19 setup and trail pins that sat on or just outside a boundary line so they are at least 100 ft inside every park in our map data.
- Parking pins say "Parking only" and note when the lot may be just outside the park line.
- Pennyrile Forest State Park + Pennyrile State Forest: a KPC member confirmed they do not overlap, so it is NOT a 2-fer.
- Added Trail of Tears Water Route spots on the Tennessee River (Kentucky Lake): Land Between the Lakes, Kentucky Lake WMA, Kenlake State Park, Kentucky Dam Village State Park and a Fort Heiman 3-fer; and on the Mississippi River: Doug Travis WMA. Checked against the NPS route map.
- Added Livingston County WMA (Trail of Tears Northern Route runs through it). Columbus-Belmont: the NPS Benge Route runs through the park, so it now has an on-route pin.
- Wickliffe Mounds, Big Bone Lick and Golden Pond now cite the NPS "Visitor Centers in Kentucky" page for the Lewis & Clark trail.
- Lewis & Clark auto tour route: checked the NPS route for all of Kentucky. It runs along the edges of Big Bone Lick, Wickliffe Mounds, Otter Creek, Yellowbank WMA and Livingston County WMA; each now has a pin inside the park next to the signed route, and Livingston County WMA is a new possible Lewis & Clark 2-fer.
- Added US-0608 Ohio River Islands National Wildlife Refuge (Manchester islands, Lewis County, boat only) as a possible Lewis & Clark 2-fer.

Compiled by the Kentucky Portable Club, October 13, 2026. Spots have not all been field-checked. Before you go, check the park's official map, the Forest Service ownership map for any national forest spot, hunting seasons on WMAs (wear blaze orange during gun seasons), and any closures. Report a wrong spot to the Kentucky Portable Club so it can be fixed.
